Lighting Study

After determining the light fixtures types used in different locations, Driven by the site visit. We do light study by analyzing and reviewing the AutoCAD 2D files received by the clients to indicate the number of lighting fixtures used in each area as long as the type and range of the fixtures weren't indicated in the site visit.

Using key chart in the AutoCAD to indicating the special requirements by the light fixtures such as, surface mounted or recessed mounted application. Through lighting study we can recommend special products package that are extremely matching with the site location and environmental parameters.
